

Reece Brett Newsletter

SUMMER 2011

Celebrate! Celebrate! Do your own dance to celebrate Reece's release of IF YOU DARE. This sizzling summer read is as hot as the Jersey summer sun and as fun as wild ride in Wildwood theme park.

If You Dare, an e-book released by Lyrical Press Inc, may be purchased June 14th on Amazon, Lyrical Press Inc, to read on your computer, Kindle, Nook, smart phone, or other e-book device.

If You Dare cover was featured Lyrical Press INC's ad in Women's Day in May. The ad as well as the cover and blurb of If You Dare may be read on my website www.reecebrett.com. My website is new and fun.

Other news: Reece is hosting two radio programs on WSNJ radio 1260 AM. If you are not in the area, you can listen on your computer WSNJ.com.

Join Reece on the first Monday of each month on WSNJ with Reece Writes. She will interview writers, editors; discuss a writer's journey from idea to publication and suggest writing prompts.

The first Wednesday of each month on Reece Reads, she will review books and interview authors to help reading club or individuals choose the next great read. Her schedule of reviews and guests will be posted on her website. For either program, listeners may call in 856- to ask questions, or add comments.

Reece's current project is a women's fiction series. Reece likes intertwining several plots and the series and the interaction characters. Her office walls are notes, characters and plot points.

To follow upcoming events on her radio programs or read latest review If You Love, look on her website: www.reecebrett.com Check out her blog, reecebrett.com/blog2/ where she shares thoughts about her passions: family, gardening, writing, reading, and kayaking.

Reece loves to hear from friends through emails reece@reecebrett.com, or through social networks Facebook or Goodreads.

